

BEAUTIFUL AZTEC THEATRE OPENS TONIGHT

'THOSE BEHIND THE SCENES' AND FOOTLIGHT STAR

Jack Mason, New York producer, in charge of productions.

William Epstein, veteran theater man, managing director.

A view of the stage from the balcony, showing the lighted sunburst above, and the curious outdoor effect achieved in designing the theatre, in which massive inner walls end abruptly, many feet short of the ceiling, which represents the sky, with twinkling stars and moving clouds.
—Photo by Smithers,

Olive May, prima donna of the New York company engaged by the Aztec.